JAP - OCCUPIED NAVAL BASE OF SINGAPORE IS BLASTED BY AMERICAN SUPER - FORTRESS BOMBERS; ENEMY ALSO REPORTS THAT TOKYO UNDERGOES RENEWED ASSAULTS

U. S. Infantry Plunges South From The Luzon Beachheads

HEADING FOR MANILA

In Show-Down Fight With "Japs" for Possession of Philippines

By William F. Zimmerman (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON Jan. 11.—The Japanese occupied British naval base of Singapore was blasted in daylight today by a task force of American Super-Fortress bombers, and Tokyo reported that the Japanese capital also underwent renewed assaults during the night by B-29's.

"Practically no damage was caused to military installations," according to a Dornier account recorded by the FCC.

Announcement that Singapore was the target came several hours after headquarters of the 20th Air Force in Washington reported that a task force of B-29's had battered Jap military installations on the Malay peninsula.

U. S. Sixth Army infantry, tanks and artillery, covered by American planes, plunged south from their Luzon beachheads today, heading for Manila and a showdown fight with the Japanese for possession of the Philippine Islands.

Advancing from a solid 15-mile-long beachhead on Lingayen Gulf, American troops captured four towns and an airfield and moved on to meet the enemy who, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "is now feverishly bringing up troops from his prepared positions in the south."

In a broadcast from Luzon, CBS Correspondent William Dunn reported that a Manila attorney told him the Japanese had expected MacArthur to attack from the south and had moved the bulk of their forces to below Manila.

Fulfilling A "Sentence," Bride Finds Many Gifts

Placed on "trial" at a mock court scene last evening, Mrs. Charles Rusk, the former Miss Irene Rank, was "sentenced" to search for the end of the rainbow. And at the rainbow's end, instead of the proverbial pot of gold, she found a variety of gifts from members of the choir of Bristol Methodist Church.

Mrs. Rusk was the guest of honor at the social affair held following the choir's business meeting in the church.

The part of the judge was taken by Charles Rathke, the district attorney, Mrs. Lee VanGilder, defendant's lawyer, Miss Louise Smoyer, tipstaff, Harold Hunter, Sr., policeman, Livingston Joyce, defendant, the bride.

The surprise shower was attended by approximately 40 guests. Refreshments followed.

(By International News Service)

BLASTING LAST GERMAN ESCAPE ROADS

Paris.—The last German escape roads out of the Ardennes pocket in eastern Belgium were blasted today by cross-fire of American artillery as Allied armies closed in from three sides and a spokesman at headquarters of Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared that the German bulge was ebbing in.

The spokesman revealed that American and British troops, steadily shrinking the salient in attacks from the north, west and south, had taken almost a dozen additional towns and captured several thousand Nazi prisoners.

The Germans dropped back on the northern flank in the face of persistent American First Army assaults, fighting rearguard actions with infantry while attempting to pull back and save Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt's armored force.

Heavy battling continued at La Roche, which the Americans assaulted after over-running the Nazi-held bastion of Samree with armor and infantry forces.

British Second Army troops advancing through the forest of Nolaumont, southeast of Marche, captured the town of Roy, east of Ambly, and other British units took the town of Nossogne, two miles northeast of Bure.

While Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army forces on the southern flank moved up generally all along the front, narrowing the neck of the salient to less than nine miles, the Yanks suffered a setback at Flamierge, west of Bastogne.

A Berlin correspondent quoted German frontline reports saying the Allies had narrowed the salient at some points to a width of only six miles.

Gen. Patton's troops were forced back from Flamierge three days ago, headquarters revealed. Despite this, the Americans enjoyed a satisfactory tactical situation.

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANEED BY SCRIBES

Pfc. Warren Forjan, of Perkasio, is listed as missing in action on the German front.

He is unreported since December 16, according to a telegram received from the War Department by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forjan, Sr. Their son is 20 years old.

Forjan was serving as an infantryman with the First Army, and had been on the continent since he took part in the invasion of the Normandy coast on D-Day, last June.

He graduated from Sellersville-Perkasie high school in 1942, and worked for about a year at the U. S. Gauge Company plant, Sellersville, before entering the army.

Approximately 75 claims amounting to slightly over $16,000 were adjusted at the 103rd annual meeting of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Mutual Insurance Association of Bucks County held at its offices in Wycombe, Monday.

The claims were for losses caused by fire and wind, a majority of the smaller ones for the latter.

Scores Apathy of Public In Season Ticket Sales

By Keith Rosser
Publicity Chairman
B. H. S. A. A. B. C.

At a meeting last evening of the Booster Committee to promote the sale of high school basketball season tickets, reports were presented showing the progress of the drive to date. While the sale of the tickets has been fair, it must be conceded that they are far below the expectation of the committee. One of the members in commenting on the situation said: "It reminds me of Mark Twain's saying to the effect that every one complains about the weather but no one does anything about it. People in Bristol are always grouching that we don't do this and we don't do that. Now here is a golden opportunity to boost a community project and the apathy of the public is really outstanding."

"However, the majority of the committee still feels that many people have just neglected to indicate their support and that before the close of the campaign Friday night many more will purchase these tickets from one of the outlets listed elsewhere in this paper."

HILL'S COUNSEL SEEKS A DELAY

Serves Notice Asking For An Arrest of Judgment In Client's Case

DUE FOR SENTENCING

TRENTON, Jan. 11.—Defense counsel for Clarence Hill, Hamilton Township Negro soldier convicted of the Duck Island slaying of Mary Myatovich, has served notice upon Prosecutor Walter D. Coughle, that tomorrow they will move for arrest of judgment.

Frank H. Wimberley and Robert Queen contend Hill's constitutional rights have been infringed by trial on an indictment duplicating a prior one returned by a grand jury a year ago and that he was held by the authorities beyond the statutory limit without being confronted with charges at a formal arraignment.

He was brought from a southern post last January to Fort Dix and was not arraigned in Hamilton Township police court until early in February.

The defense has stated that it proposes to carry an appeal to the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

A Mercer Court trial jury, it finding the 34-year-old soldier guilty, recommended life imprisonment. This is mandatory on the court and Judge Frank S. Katzenbach arranged for sentencing to morrow.

Considers The Future Of Small Businesses

Ralph Dunne, of Bala-Cynwyd-Narbert Rotary Club had as his subject when he addressed Bensalem Rotarians, Tuesday evening, "The Future of Small Business."

Mr. Dunne informed that there are two main problems in a small business, free competition and lack of spending money. "We must re-adjust our business and rekindle the customers' good-will. Self-service of all types, co-operative businesses, and super-markets are all going to increase after the war. Other communities' businesses are going to compete with those of our communities, businesses in communities that have previously not meant competition. This will be due to aviation."

The speaker stated that he follows as the basic law of business the maxim of Henry Ford: "Start from where you are, and let the public make your business." Other men's ideas on business have also been put into practice by Mr. Dunne. Another thing that he advised doing is to find out what the people like and do more of it, and find out what they dislike and do less of it.

"Today is the time for greatness of thinking and acting in business. It is the time to help ourselves," he added. A great deal of pleasure is secured by Mr. Dunne from operating a business in which the customers are satisfied. People are hungry to be treated right," he concluded.

The presiding officer was Jacob Schenfele. Guests at the meeting were J. Graeco and Howard B. Conover, of the Palmyra-Riverton club.

BUCKS CO. FARMERS HAD VERY FAIR YEAR

Labor Shortage Proved Handicap However, Greenwalt Says

EARLY HAY WAS FINE

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 11.—In spite of the labor shortage and the drought the latter part of the summer, farmers in Bucks county, according to County Agent William J. Greenwalt, had a fairly good year.

The only crop that showed a semblance of a failure was corn, and that was due entirely to the drought. This crop, said Mr. Greenwalt, was from 60 to 75 per cent up to normal, and about twice the normal acreage was required to fill the silos. The corn to be

OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT

The quiet and restrained words which President Roosevelt chose for his recent Report to the Nation are almost as significant as any of his subject matter.

The subdued tone, much in contrast with many of his other utterances, shows that he did not misread the events which occurred in the opening hours of the House of Representatives.

Those events concerned the rescue of the Dies Committee from the quick and ignominious death to which it had been slated by Administrative farces—a pay-off, if you want to put it that way, to the Communists and other leftists who had worked so hard winning a Fourth Term for the President.

But the Dies Committee didn't die. It was saved because seventy members of the President's own party, seventy Democratic Representatives, joined with Republicans in defying the Administration.

A bold and adroit legislative maneuver brought the question before the House as virtually the first order of business, and the Committee on un-American Activities had been made a permanent House committee almost before the New Dealers realized what had happened.

The episode had a significance far beyond that of the much-disputed Dies Committee itself.

It demonstrated that the House of Representatives has graduated from any rubber-stamp status. There are the votes in the House to override some at least of the Executive whims. Moreover, there is also in the House leadership and skill enough to throw the New Deal steam-rollers out of gear.

HEALTH ACTIVITIES

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 11.—Many matters of business were brought before the board of directors of Bensalem Township public schools last evening in the high school building. Joseph Siegle presided.

A summary of health reports showed that 153 health examinations were made during December. There were 16 cases of chicken pox and three of whooping cough. Eleven notices were given for first offenses of illegal absences and two hearings held for second offenses.

The sum of $80 was donated to the Junior Red Cross by pupils from Cornwells, Eddington and Andalusia buildings. Public schools in the township secured $340 for the tuberculosis prevention campaign through sale of seals.

Sports reports showed that the boys lost games to Bordentown and Morrisville, and won over the alumni, Langhorne and Fallsington. The girls are playing an intra-mural program at present, which may be climaxed by several games. They will play the alumnae on Feb. 27th and possibly have a game at home

News in Brief:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Want to know how much your share of the national debt will be?

Well, on the basis of 138,000,000 Americans and President Roosevelt's estimate that the national debt will be $292,300,000,000 on June 30, 1946, the per capita share of it will be $2118.

And that's for every man, woman and child in the country, so if you have a wife and two children, for instance, you'd multiply the figure by four to find your family's share.

The deficit for one year alone—July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1946—is expected to amount to $293 for every American.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—It's going to cost us $602.20 apiece to finance the war and keep the Government going through the year starting July 1.

But we're getting off cheap—the cost this year is $722.38. The difference is $120.18.

You get the per capita expenditure by using these figures: Census population estimate 138,000,000; Government expenditures estimate, $83,103,000,000 in the coming fiscal year, $99,688,000,000 this year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Draft quotas will rise sharply in the next six months. Government officials disclosed today in urging "work or fight" legislation to fill resultant gaps in war producing ranks.

The Government proposes to extract some 200,000 of the 900,000 men needed for the armed forces from occupationally-deferred workers, aged 26 through 29, in war-essential industries.

And only through national service legislation channeling every

Charles O'Brien presided in the absence of Jacob Weller, who is ill. Nineteen attended the meeting which was held at Flannery's Restaurant.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Ward Legal Battle in Abeyance

Chicago.—The legal battle between the Government and Montgomery Ward and Company supposedly was in abeyance today while Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan considered the claims of the opposing sides, but the Company launched a new attack.

This came in the form of affidavits filed in Federal District Court charging that the Army, since its seizure of 16 Company properties in Chicago and six other cities Dec. 28th, had administered the business in an inefficient, wasteful and confused manner.

Washington.—The American public today had the assurance of OPA Chief Chester Bowles that no plans for instituting clothing rationing are in the offing.

"Mother" Moore is Guest Speaker at Meeting Here

A meeting of the Bristol Women's Christian Temperance Union was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Doron Green, Radcliffe street.

An opportunity was given the members to hear Mrs. Caroline ("Mother") Moore, of Philadelphia, speak of her work among the service men of Philadelphia, and not recently of her work with founding children.

"Mother" Moore was given this title as a reward for her outstanding service to the men of the U. S. Navy in raising a sum of $27,000 to build a recreation building at the navy yard. It was a recognition which could not be taken from her, but could be taken with her wherever she might go, even after her death.

In 1938 "Mother" Moore was given the Gimbel Award of $1000 as the outstanding woman of Philadelphia for that year. And this year she has been given the Congressional Medal of the U. S. Government.

The members who were present were intensely interested in the fine work that is being done with and by the servicemen, for Mother Moore finds charitable work for the service men to do in return for the fine things which are done for them.

Mother Moore received two afghans made recently by W. C. T. U. members.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Ada B. Sands who, in her prayer, remembered the members who had died recently, especially the president, Mrs. Harry H. Headley.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Bruden, second vice president. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Harry T. Neher, and Miss Jane Rogers gave the financial report, and told of the fruit cakes which had been sent as Christmas presents to all boys and girls on the WCTU honor roll, and gifts which had been sent to the shut-in members at Christmas. Several letters of appreciation for these were read.

Several new members were welcomed. A social time was enjoyed, and the meeting closed with the circle benediction.

ASKS FOR DRESSINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Army has requested 43,000,000 surgical dressings as a safety measure for the European battle zone, the American Red Cross reported today. Shipments of gauze to Red Cross chapter for the making of these dressings by volunteers will start this month, on a production schedule of which will begin delivery to the Army in March. The dressings produced will be four by eight-inch sponges of the type used in deeper wounds and as preliminary dressings after an operation.

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 11.—A survey just completed by the clerical force in the Bucks County Registration Office, Administration Building, reveals that a total of 2649 registered electors are listed in the category of two-year delinquent voters.

The compiled list of delinquents, represent electors who have been registered for a full two-year period prior to Nov. 7, 1944 and have failed to vote at any primary or general election during 1943 and 1944. Electors however, who were found delinquent in the two previous annual surveys and had their registrations reinstated in 1943 or early in 1944, are not included in this year's listing. "Power of God" Is Film Title Showing Locally

"The Power of God," a gripping motion picture filmed in sound will be offered to the Bristol public in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 tonight.

Made with professional technique, the picture is in the present tense against a modern background. By a series of dramatic episodes filled with emotional contrasts, it demonstrates how people in different walks of life are being stirred and changed by a personal experience with God.

In every respect a feature production, the film has won high acclaim by outstanding newspapers and commentators for its high quality. In religious movies, it is without peer. The music, written especially for the picture, finds its finale in the choral rendition of "The Morning Light is Breaking," while the Cross of Christ is thrown against the background of a rising sun in beautiful technicolor. It is said that people everywhere who see the picture go away with only one regret, that is that they didn't insist on taking all their friends with them to see it.

The Happy Bible Hour is making a charge for admission. Everyone is welcome. A silver offering will be received.

TIPS FROM DRIVERS

A craze has developed for conveying suggestions of improvements in postwar motor cars to manufacturers. One motorist asserts that the greatest need is a driver's seat that is adjustable like a barber's chair. Another inveighs against the width of the modern fender as absolutely useless. Slanting windshields receive condemnation, while one objector denounces obstacles to the driver's vision, declaring that the front door pillar "is today the greatest menace in car design." This objector continues: "Front windows should take in more area but less sky. Toward the rear the windows can become narrower but should carry clear around the car with no blind spots." More than one protest is directed against shiny trimmings.
The increase in glare is condemned as undesirable, especially in those parts of the country where the sky is "not cloudy all day."

GOOD EXAMPLE

There is considerable difference between the attitude of those able-bodied young and middle-aged persons who refuse to take essential war jobs and the attitude of hundreds of thousands of persons more than 65 years of age who continue to work daily despite the fact that they could retire and accept social security payments.

The Social Security Board has announced that more than 700-000 men and women more than 65 years old have stayed on the job and have not claimed benefits to which they were entitled under the Federal law. In addition, the board reported that 70,000 persons who had retired have given up their social security benefits temporarily to return to jobs.

The board said in announcing the figures that they constituted
"an effective answer to those who say social security will only encourage idleness"—in line with its customary policy of interlading its releases with propaganda
—but the board might have pointed out that a great many people in the higher age brackets are determined to aid in winning the war and offer what help they can in that regard. It is a tribute to their patriotism as well as their ambition that they remain at work despite loss of the benefits they could claim if they preferred to remain idle.

A few cynics might say that social security payments are not high enough to overcome the urge to attain a higher income through working, but not many of those cynical persons would relish the idea of working for nothing many days during each month. After all, foregoing social security funds and taking a job instead means working for nothing until the income derived from working equals the amount of Federal payments that otherwise would have been made. Persons over 65 who are willing to do that must be patriotic.

A check accepted by an Illinois merchant was returned by the bank marked "No account," this being the first time there has been any question about St. Nick's credit.

Secretary of the Navy, General

Marshall, Admiral King, the Under

Secretaries of War and Navy, and nearly every man upon whom rest military responsibility in this war asserts is essential to its quick conclusion—but for these labor leaders there would be slight question of its passage. Aside from them the opposition is ineffectual. There are, of course, members of Congress who sincerely doubt the necessity of the law and are thus willing to put their judgment against that of the chiefs of staff and the Commander in Chief. And there are plenty who would rather not vote for so comprehensive a measure. But these are not strong enough to prevent its passage if it were not for the weight of the labor leaders. It is the political power which they have achieved under this Administration that gives them an influence in Congress which they now seem ready to wield against the national interests in a war crisis.

WHEN the press-agent phrases which these labor leaders have used in opposing national service are disregarded, the real reason is clear. At bottom they are opposed to it because of the fear that it would take away their right to strike—a right which they should not have at all in war but which they have jealously guarded in this war just the same. Mr. Roosevelt has pointed out that the legislation

he asks would not reduce wages or affect hours or conditions of work.

It would, however, put an end to slowdowns, walkouts and strikes for the rest of the war. It would insure the supply of labor under all conditions.

AND, apparently, that is exactly what these men do not want. For many months now they have been unhappily praising themselves for their "no-strike pledge," which proved wholly ineffectual to stop literally thousands of strikes. They noisily proclaim labor's "magnificent performance" in war production, despite the provable fact that great as the production has been,

it would have been very much greater but for labor's lags and strikes. Their pledges, pretensions and loudly advertised patriotism

are in direct conflict with their opposition to this proposal. They have no right to place their judgment on

the Dies Committee, there is little reason for any American to feel otherwise than the spirit of democracy scored a distinct victory.

Two fundamental rights of free government were at stake. One is the right to criticize—sometimes the most essential right of freedom; and second the right to know.

Both rights were fully upheld on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Many Americans had awaited the present Congress with misgivings. Had the victory last November, the close-margin success of President Roosevelt, gone to the New Dealers' heads?

Did the impetuous words of Vice-President Wallace on election night, calling the photo-finish result a "mandate" to the New Deal, mean that minority thought and minority rights were to be disregarded—that "loyal opposition" was no longer to be tolerated?

Some five million Pennsylvanians had special interest in this question. They are the Republican half of this state, who oppose the bulk of the New Deal philosophy sufficiently actively to have restored and kept Republican administration for the Commonwealth, but who fell just short of carrying the State last November.

This half of Pennsylvania faced the possibility of four bleak years of "taxation without representation"— four years of being stepchildren in the national family.

Their President was openly hostile to their convictions; they had no voice whatever in the United States Senate, where Pennsylvania is represented by two men who are pledged to obey every nod and whisper from the White House.

To all Americans who wish for something other than one man rule their hope lay in the question, Would the House of Representatives stand up?

The question has been answered in the affirmative.
The Lower House intends to exercise its Constitutional right and duty of disagreeing with the President when its members believe he is on the wrong track.

This can make for more unity, not less. True unity does not consist of letting one individual always have his own way. The American brand rises from a meeting of many frank minds upon a common ground mutually satisfactory.

Victory, economic stability and the working out of a lasting peace can all be vastly speeded if the President will accept the situation as it is—and work with Congress, not against it.

He showed hopeful signs of taking that point of view
in his week-end message.

It is to be hoped he will follow the same plan in his forthcoming Inaugural Address.

START PLANNING NOW TO KEEP THE '45 HOME RECORDS

Families now are urged to buy only what they need, pay off indebtedness, and save for the future. A well-kept home account book helps to do this.

Now is a good time to buy a new book so it will be ready to start keeping records at the beginning of the year.

Instead of an account or record book that may be obtained already made up, some homemakers may prefer a card file or a notebook that they may divide into columns to fit their needs. Whichever type you choose, be sure it is ready for the first of the year. As the family expenditures for 1944 are totaled, an estimate of the family's needs can be made for the coming year. That's a simple way to arrive at the 1945 budget.

Record keeping may be done easier and more accurately if a way is devised to take care of sales slips, bills, receipts and checks. These may be grouped and put on nails or into separate boxes. A bulletin board where members of the family may jot down the money they spend is another device to simplify record keeping. Some families find that paying by check makes keeping accounts less of a burden.

The greatest help toward simplifying record keeping is to have each member of the family know about the family income and the spending of the money. This may be accomplished by family get-togethers at which the parents outline the probable income and expenses and the children present their needs and wants. Decisions then may be made that are fair to everyone.

Homemakers wanting assistance with keeping family records may consult the agricultural extension office in Doylestown.

Delicious Pork Sausage Ideas For Nippy Days

Fresh pork sausage comes in various forms, but all have that characteristic spicy-rich flavor that can do so much to liven up a meal. Cold, sharp days make one appreciate even more the sturdy flavor and satisfying, stay-by-you quality of this meat, so it's natural to serve sausage often in winter, says Jesse Alice Cline, home economist.

When cooking sausage by itself on the top of the range, the approved method is as follows: Place in cold pan with about two table-spoons water, cover pan, and simmer until water evaporates. Remove cover, increase heat slightly, and cook until sausages are a beautiful rich brown. This method ensures thorough cooking, and plump, tender sausages.

Sausage is versatile, and fits into any meal; the kind you buy and the method of cooking may be suited to the rest of the menu. A favorite for an oven meal is a scalloped dish with crisp brown link sausages the small ones on top. The dish may be creamed noodles, scalloped apples, scalloped corn, or scalloped potatoes and onions. Start sausages in frying-pan, then brown in oven on top of the casserole.

For a broiler meal—try broiled sausage (either links or patties), halved cooked sweet potatoes browned in the broiler, and green beans heated in the broiling pan under the meat. Place broiling pan about three inches from the heat, for a moderate broiling temperature. Tempting lunches or suppers are easy with sausage on hand. Serve with waffles, pancakes, French cakes, toast, fried corn meal mush or rice.

Had Very Fair Year

hushed was about 75 percent normal.

Commenting upon the hay crop, Mr. Greenwalt said the yield early in the season was quite good, but that the second and third cuttings were very poor on account of the drought. Because of this, said Mr. Greenwalt, the dairymen will likely run short of hay during the latter part of the dairy feeding season.

Wheat, oats and barley yields were excellent during the past year, and Mr. Greenwalt, making his rounds throughout the county, has found the acreage of Fall seeding is far above average. This is due to the excellent seeding conditions and the fact that new stands of hay looked poor. In order to get the field back into grass rotation, they seeded them with wheat.

Orchardists did not fare so well because of the drought. The size of the apples and peaches was cut considerably. The early vegetable crop was excellent, but the yields later in the season were poor because of the drought.

The yield of can house tomatoes was about 75 per cent. normal, and this also was due to the drought. The potato acreage was considerably smaller than during the previous year.

Speaking in reference to poultry, Mr. Greenwalt said the number of laying birds housed during 1944 was less than in 1943 because the poultry business has become over-expanded. It was found in the county that the production was greater than the consumption.

From the standpoint of the dairy Mr. Greenwalt said the number of cows has increased slightly over the previous year. He pointed out also that the number of sows to farrow during the Fall of 1944 was somewhat less than the preceding year, and the number of sows to farrow next Spring will also be somewhat smaller.

The two principal things with which the farmers had to contend during the past year, said Mr. Greenwalt, were the labor shortage and the drought. The former was overcome to some extent by putting labor saving devices to use, and by farmers getting together and helping each other. In some sections of the county, where it was possible, some of the farmers, especially the truckers in the lower end, resorted to irrigation in order to provide their crops with moisture.

the status of servicemen and women, their names, in known cases, were also omitted on the delinquent list.

Work on preparing the 2649 notices for despatch in the mails began Monday morning and the department is in hopes of getting them in the mails by the end of this week or early next week.

Accompanying each notice is a card (Request of Reinstatement) which the Commission urges each recipient to sign personally, affix his or her present address at specified position on card and return at once to the Registration Commission, Doylestown, Pa. Failure to do so within the specified 10-day limit from date of post-mark on notice, will result in the cancellation of the voter's registration. Any voter's registration being cancelled for this cause will create the inconvenience of said voter becoming re-registered. It is therefore of utmost importance to sign name and address properly and legibly on Reinstatement Card and return immediately in order to eliminate a special visit to the Registration Office, or again appear before the travelling registrars when they sit at various points in boroughs and townships during the coming year.

In cases where the notices are addressed to men or women who are in any branch of the country's services, any qualified elector of the county, knowing the facts of the case, may submit the cards for said persons.

In comparison to last year's survey when 5726 delinquent notices were mailed, this year's figure shows a decided decrease, largely due to the fact that approximately 85% of the county's total registered electorate voted at the Presidential Election last November. In last year's project 2854 registrations were reinstated and 2872 cancelled.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(INS)—

The gay strings of red, white and green lights which once made Albuquerque a particularly bright stop for Santa Claus was missing again this year. The War Production Board ruled that electric lighting displays for "ornamental purposes relative to the celebration of Christmas" were still taboo.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Arthur D. Sargis

"Thy kingdom come," dear Father, is our goal for today, tomorrow and the day after. We love Thy kingdom Lord. Man is terribly guilty of misuse. Order is the first law of heaven and confusion and chaos is the experience of human governments today. Our prayer, and we really mean it, is for Thy Kingdom to come. "We the people" need Thee, our God, to rule in and thru our lives so that the neighborhood of nations might, in reality, become a brotherhood in the Spirit, as well as in the Name, of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HEADING FOR MANILA

In Show-Down Fight With
"Japs" for Possession of Philippines

By William F. Zimmerman
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON Jan. 11.—The Jap-occupied British naval base of Singapore was blasted in daylight today by a task force of American Super-Fortress bombers, and Tokyo reported that the Japanese capital also underwent renewed assaults during the night by B-29's.

"Practically no damage was caused to military installations," according to a Dornier account recorded by the FCC.

Announcement that Singapore was the target came several hours after headquarters of the 20th Air Force in Washington reported that a task force of B-29's had battered Jap military installations on the Malay peninsula.

U. S. Sixth Army infantry, tanks and artillery, covered by American planes, plunged south from their Luzon beachheads today, heading for Manila and a showdown fight with the Japanese for possession of the Philippine Islands.

Advancing from a solid 15-mile-long beachhead on Lingayen Gulf, American troops captured four towns and an airfield and moved on to meet the enemy who, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "is now feverishly bringing up troops from his prepared positions in the south."

In a broadcast from Luzon, CBS Correspondent William Dunn reported that a Manila attorney told him the Japanese had expected MacArthur to attack from the south and had moved the bulk of their forces to below Manila.

Fulfilling A "Sentence," Bride Finds Many Gifts

Placed on "trial" at a mock court scene last evening, Mrs. Charles Rusk, the former Miss Irene Hanck, was "sentenced" to search for the end of the rainbow. And at the rainbow's end, instead of the proverbial pot of gold, she found a variety of gifts from members of the choir of Bristol Methodist Church.

Mrs. Rusk was the guest of honor at the social affair held following the choir's business meeting in the church.

The part of the judge was taken by Charles Rathke, the district attorney, Mrs. Lee VanGilder, defendant's lawyer, Miss Louise Shroyer, tipstaff, Harold Hunter, Sr., policeman, Livingston Joyce, defendant, the bride.

The surprise shower was attended by approximately 40 guests. Refreshments followed.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS
(By International News Service)

BLASTING LAST GERMAN ESCAPE ROADS

Paris.—The last German escape roads out of the Ardennes pocket in eastern Belgium were blasted today by cross-fire of American artillery as Allied armies closed in from three sides and a spokesman at headquarters of Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared that the German bulge was caving in.

The spokesman revealed that American and British troops, steadily shrinking the salient in attacks from the north, west and south, had taken almost a dozen additional towns and captured several thousand Nazi prisoners.

The Germans dropped back on the northern flank in the face of persistent American First Army assaults, fighting rearguard actions with infantry while attempting to pull back and save Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt's armored force.

Heavy battling continued at La Roche, which the Americans assaulted after over-running the Nazi-held bastion of Samree with armor and infantry forces.

British Second Army troops advancing through the forest of Nolaumont, southeast of Marche, captured the town of Roy, east of Ambly, and other British units took the town of Nossogne, two miles northeast of Bure.

While Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army forces on the southern flank moved up generally all along the front, narrowing the neck of the salient to less than nine miles, the Yanks suffered a setback at Flamierge, west of Bastogne.

A Berlin correspondent quoted German frontline reports saying the Allies had narrowed the salient at some points to a width of only six miles.

Gen. Patton's troops were forced back from Flamierge three days ago, headquarters revealed. Despite this, the Americans enjoyed a satisfactory tactical situation.

Pfc. Warren Forjan, of Perkaskie, is listed as missing in action on the German front.

He is unreported since December 16, according to a telegram received from the War Department by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forjan, Sr. Their son is 20 years old.

Forjan was serving as an infantryman with the First Army, and had been on the continent since he took part in the invasion of the Normandy coast on D-Day, last June.

He graduated from Sellersville-Perkaskie high school in 1942, and worked for about a year at the U. S. Gauge Company plant, Sellersville, before entering the army.

Approximately 75 claims amounting to slightly over $16,000 were adjusted at the 103rd annual meeting of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Mutual Insurance Association of Bucks County held at its offices in Wycombe, Monday.

The claims were for losses caused by fire and wind, a majority of the smaller ones for the latter.

Scores Apathy of Public
In Season Ticket Sales

By Keith Rosser
Publicity Chairman
B. H. S. A. A. B. C.

At a meeting last evening of the Booster Committee to promote the sale of high school basketball season tickets, reports were presented showing the progress of the drive to date. While the sale of the tickets has been fair, it must be conceded that they are far below the expectation of the committee.

One of the members in commenting on the situation said: "It reminds me of Mark Twain's saying to the effect that every one complains about the weather but no one does anything about it. People in Bristol are always grouching that we don't do this and we don't do that. Now here is a golden opportunity to boost a community project and the apathy of the public is really outstanding."

However, the majority of the committee still feels that many people have just neglected to indicate their support and that before the close of the campaign Friday night many more will purchase these tickets from one of the outlets listed elsewhere in this paper.

HILL'S COUNSEL
SEEKS A DELAY

Serves Notice Asking For
An Arrest of Judgment
In Client's Case

DUE FOR SENTENCING

TRENTON, Jan. 11.—Defense counsel for Clarence Hill, Hamilton Township Negro soldier convicted of the Duck Island slaying of Mary Myatovich, has served notice upon Prosecutor Walter D. Coughle, that tomorrow they will move for arrest of judgment.

Frank H. Wimberley and Robert Queen contend Hill's constitutional rights have been infringed by trial on an indictment duplicating a prior one returned by a grand jury a year ago and that he was held by the authorities beyond the statutory limit without being confronted with charges at a formal arraignment.

He was brought from a southern post last January to Fort Dix and was not arraigned in Hamilton Township police court until early in February.

The defense has stated that it proposes to carry an appeal to the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

A Mercer Court trial jury, in finding the 34-year-old soldier guilty, recommended life imprisonment. This is mandatory on the court and Judge Frank S. Katzenbach arranged for sentencing to tomorrow.

Greenawalt Says

EARLY HAY WAS FINE

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 11.—In spite of the labor shortage and the drought the latter part of the summer, farmers in Bucks county, according to County Agent William J. Greenawalt, had a fairly good year.

The only crop that showed a semblance of a failure was corn, and that was due entirely to the drought. This crop, said Mr. Greenawalt, was from 60 to 75 per cent up to normal, and about twice the normal acreage was required to fill the silos. The corn to be

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Standing In The Road

Washington, Jan. 11.—

THE opposition of the professional labor leaders to the National Service Act, request for which is the core of the message which the President sent to Congress, and eloquently explained to the American people last Saturday, is viewed by some as an illustration of their selfishness and insincerity.

IT SEEMS to justify the charge that they put their own interests ahead of the national interests; that rather than yield an advantage, they are prepared to nullify it if they can, the judgment of the responsible military and naval authorities, supported by the Commander in Chief, of what is essential to winning the war. There is a position that ought to arouse indignation all over the country. If the President and our military leaders are right, national-service legislation will hasten victory and save the lives of uncounted American boys. If they are right—and there is every reason to think so—then should the attitude of the labor leaders prevail, the war will be lengthened and thousands of our soldiers and sailors will die unnecessarily.

IN THIS matter no one will question that Mr. Roosevelt and his military advisers are in an infinitely better position to know the facts and base a judgment than the labor leaders. No one will contend that in this matter they have either a personal or political concern. On the contrary, it is entirely clear that they have come to their decision about national service—particularly, the President—with great reluctance and that only the inescapable conviction that it is the one way to shorten the war compels them to urge it. Under these circumstances, the labor-leader opposition is an indefensible thing and it leaves these men in an extremely ugly light indeed.

IT WOULD be different if there were any other effective opposition or any good reasons for opposing. The truth is that but for these labor leaders this law, which the President, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, General Marshall, Admiral King, the Under Secretaries of War and Navy, and nearly every man upon whom rests military responsibility in this war, assert is essential to its quick conclusion—but for these labor leaders there would be slight question of its passage. Aside from them the opposition is ineffectual. There are, of course, members of Congress who sincerely doubt the necessity of the law and are thus willing to put their judgment against that of the chiefs of staff and the Commander in Chief. And there are plenty who would rather not vote for so comprehensive a measure. But these are not strong enough to prevent its passage if it were not for the weight of the labor leaders. It is the political power which they have achieved under this Administration that gives them an influence in Congress which they now seem ready to wield.

WHEN the apocryphal phrases which these labor leaders have used in opposing national service are disregarded, the real reason is clear. At bottom they are opposed to it because of the fear that it would take away their right to strike—a right which they should not have at all in war but which they have jealously guarded in this war just the same. Mr. Roosevelt has pointed out that the legislation he asks would not reduce wages or affect hours or conditions of work. It would, however, put an end to slowdowns, walkouts and strikes for the rest of the war. It would insure an adequate supply of labor under all conditions.

AND, apparently, that is exactly what these men do not want. For many months now they have been unctuously praising themselves for their "no-strike pledge," which proved wholly ineffectual to stop literally thousands of strikes. They noisily proclaim labor's "magnificent performance" in war production, despite the provable fact that great as the production has been, it would have been very much greater but for labor's lags and strikes. Their pledges, pretensions and loudly advertised patriotism are in direct conflict with their opposition to this proposal. They have no right to place their judgment on the Dies Committee, there is little reason for any American to feel otherwise than the spirit of democracy scored a distinct victory.

Two fundamental rights of free government were at stake. One is the right to criticize—sometimes the most no critical an issue in so serious a moment against that of the united military authorities.

LAST year Mr. Roosevelt co-operated with the effort of these leaders to defeat the national service bill by tying strings to his recommendations which insured its defeat. He joined with the military chiefs in urging national service, but he insisted that Congress simultaneously should enact four other measures which it was perfectly clear Congress would not do. So the national-service effort of 1944 failed. This time the need is greater and Mr. Roosevelt has tied no strings to his recommendation. He, backed by the military authorities, unequivocally asks for it. It would be a fine thing to see him bump the heads of these labor-leader friends of his together and tell them to get out of the road.

IF HE does not do so, the bill will fail again. As Chairman May of the Military Committee, who will introduce it in the House, said a few days ago, it will not pass unless the Administration gives it "whole-hearted support," which certainly it did not give before. As Senator Austin said, only "lip service" was given it last time. It is hard to believe the President will justify this sort of indictment again. Though the original national service proposal was sponsored by two Republicans—Senator Austin and Representative Wadsworth—there is a disposition among certain other Republicans to hold back on it now. But the main opposition comes from the labor leaders. If they were in favor, passage would be assured. If the bill fails this time or is compromised, it will show Congress as unwilling to make total war possible when total war is called for by the united military authorities and a most critical situation.

essential right of freedom; and second the right to know. Both rights were fully upheld on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Many Americans had awaited the present Congress with misgivings. Had the victory last November, the close-margin success of President Roosevelt, gone to the New Dealers' heads?

Did the impetuous words of Vice-President Wallace on election night, calling the photo-finish result a "mandate" to the New Deal, mean that minority thought and minority rights were to be disregarded—that "loyal opposition" was no longer to be tolerated?

Some five million Pennsylvanians had special interest in this question. They are the Republican half of this state, who oppose the bulk of the New Deal philosophy sufficiently actively to have restored and kept Republican administration for the Commonwealth, but who fell just short of carrying the State last November.

This half of Pennsylvania faced the possibility of four bleak years of "taxation without representation"—four years of being stepchildren in the national family.

Their President was openly hostile to their convictions; they had no voice whatever in the United States Senate, where Pennsylvania is represented by two men who are pledged to obey every nod and whisper from the White House.

To all Americans who wish for something other than one man rule their hope lay in the question, Would the House of Representatives stand up?

The question has been answered in the affirmative. The Lower House intends to exercise its Constitutional right and duty of disagreeing with the President when its members believe he is on the wrong track.

This can make for more unity, not less. True unity does not consist of letting one individual always have his own way. The American brand rises from a meeting of many frank minds upon a common ground mutually satisfactory.

Victory, economic stability and the working out of a lasting peace can all be vastly speeded if the President will accept the situation as it is—and work with Congress, not against it.

He showed hopeful signs of taking that point of view in his week-end message.

It is to be hoped he will follow the same plan in his forthcoming Inaugural Address.

START PLANNING NOW TO KEEP THE '45 HOME RECORDS

Families now are urged to buy only what they need, pay off indebtedness, and save for the future. A well-kept home account book helps to do this.

Now is a good time to buy a new book so it will be ready to start keeping records at the beginning of the year.

Instead of an account or record book that may be obtained already made up, some homemakers may prefer a card file or a notebook that they may divide into columns to fit their needs. Whichever type you choose, be sure it is ready for the first of the year. As the family expenditures for 1944 are totaled, an estimate of the family's needs can be made for the coming year. That's a simple way to arrive at the 1945 budget.

Record keeping may be done easier and more accurately if a way is devised to take care of sales slips, bills, receipts and checks. These may be grouped and put on nails or into separate boxes. A bulletin board where members of the family may jot down the money they spend is another device to simplify record keeping. Some families find that paying by check makes keeping accounts less of a burden.

The greatest help toward simplifying record keeping is to have each member of the family know about the family income and the spending of the money. This may be accomplished by family get-togethers at which the parents outline the probable income and expenses and the children present their needs and wants. Decisions then may be made that are fair to everyone.

Homemakers wanting assistance with keeping family records may consult the agricultural extension office in Doylestown.

Delicious Pork Sausage Ideas For Nippy Days

Fresh pork sausage comes in various forms, but all have that characteristic spicy-rich flavor that can do so much to liven up a meal. Cold, sharp days make one appreciate even more the sturdy flavor and satisfying, stay-by-you quality of this meat, so it's natural to serve sausage often in winter, says Jesse Alice Cline, home economist.

When cooking sausage by itself on the top of the range, the approved method is as follows: Place in cold pan with about two table-spoons water, cover pan, and simmer until water evaporates. Remove cover, increase heat slightly, and cook until sausages are a beautiful rich brown. This method ensures thorough cooking, and plump, tender sausages.

Sausage is versatile, and fits into any meal; the kind you buy and the method of cooking may be suited to the rest of the menu. A favorite for an oven meal is a scalloped dish with crisp brown link sausages (the small ones) on top. The dish may be creamed noodles, scalloped apples, scalloped corn, or scalloped potatoes and onions. Start sausages in frying-pan, then brown in oven on top of the casserole.

For a broiler meal—try broiled sausage (either links or patties), halved cooked sweet potatoes browned in the broiler, and green beans heated in the broiling pan under the meat. Place broiling pan about three inches from the heat, for a moderate broiling temperature. Tempting lunches or suppers are easy with sausage on hand. Serve with waffles, pancakes, French toast, fried corn meal mush or rice cakes.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Arthur D. Sargis

Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church
Eddington, Pa.

"Thy kingdom come," dear

Father, is our goal for today, tomorrow and the day after. We love Thy kingdom Lord. Man is terribly guilty of misuse.

Order is the first law of heaven and confusion and chaos is the experience of human governments today. Our prayer, and we really mean it, is for Thy Kingdom to come. "We the people" need Thee, our God, to rule in and thru our lives so that the neighborhood of nations might, in reality, become a brotherhood in the Spirit, as well as in the Name, of Jesus Christ. Amen.

PFC Robert Patterson, Camp

Henry, Fla., were Sunday guests of Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Sr.,

Cedar street.

tioned in Virginia, spent the weekend visiting his wife on Locust street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Orphey,

Toledo, O., are paying a visit with relatives in town.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan, Kul-

mont, is paying an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ludwig,

New Buckley street.

Mrs. Francis Lippincott, Philadelphia, spent Friday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lippincott, Linden street.

Mrs. Walter T. Kelly, Jackson

street, entertained at her home on Friday evening. Mrs. William

Dougherty, Mrs. John Ferry, Mrs.

William Rasmussen, Mrs. Samuel

Scholl, Mrs. Anthony Lazarovich,

Bristol; Mrs. Harold Bahrenburg,

Edgely; Mrs. Victor Roberts and Mrs. Edward Judd, Morrisville.
